📄 Trumpas pristatymas

A hardworking and adaptive professional with a Master's in Computer Applications and diversified experience in software testing, app testing, and project coordination, I am ready to take on whatever job opportunity may come my way and make good use of my skills, hard work, and readiness to learn.

Known for being reliable, detail-oriented, and a fast learner, I work well in dynamic environments and am always ready for new challenges. My aim is to contribute positively to the success of the organization while growing both personally and professionally.
