I am self-sufficient, patient, have my own opinion. There is not lacking optimism in my current life. I do not like non-efficiencies and always trying to find some ways to improve it. I am not afraid long working hours usually and ready to seek for a goals working in a team or alone.

I speak, write and understand English, Russian languages very well. I am familiar with Polish a little bit too. Have no problems while working with computer for a long time (MS Windows, MS Office software). I gain some experience how to deal with important suppliers and customers while working for the global companies.

I am looking for a Sales Engineer, Analyst or Project Manager position where my technical knowledge can be used and developed even further. Would consider learning new skills or additional language if that is needed for a new position.
